

Infor CloudSuite HCM Summary

Talent drives business

Since business runs on talent, growing companies like yours need human capital management solutions that work, and work well. As you grow, your business demands a wider range of capabilities—without adding unnecessary maintenance, deployment time, and cost. You need talent management and HR systems that are strong enough to meet your workforce needs today, but innovative enough to adapt in the future. It's more important than ever for HR to have modern HCM solutions that are up to the challenge.

Discover Infor CloudSuite™ HCM, a powerful set of cloud-based human capital management solutions built to adapt to an organization's evolving business strategy. This solution replaces complex processes, workflows, and systems with sophisticated, yet intuitive technology. And that gives your HR professionals the ability to deliver streamlined processes and remarkable experiences to your workforce, creating significant value across the organization.

Infor CloudSuite HCM provides broad talent and HR optimization capabilities, unique and insightful science-driven tools, and flexible technology so you can target your key business objectives now and in the future. Infor CloudSuite HCM makes it easy for you to buy, deploy, use, and maintain agile HCM technology in one solution from a single vendor.

Differentiating value

HR's role has drastically changed from tracking employee records and overseeing payroll to delivering support for larger business strategy and new responsibilities across the organization. Modern HCM now requires new capabilities and tools to meet today's expectations. Infor CloudSuite HCM is built to support the modernization of HR operations, and help HR deliver real, differentiating value.

Broad capabilities—Satisfy the HCM capabilities and end-to-end functionality you need in one solution from a single vendor, with great depth and breadth compared to other available solutions.

Science driven tools—Build competitive advantage, predict outcomes, tailor programs to individuals, and optimize day-to-day decisions by applying powerful science to talent processes.

Flexible technology—More easily buy, deploy, use, and maintain one of the most agile HR cloud technology solutions, even as demands change.
