ABOUT THIS SHORTLIST

Configure, price, quote (CPQ) software automates the sales-to-close process while providing a critical sales experience to customers. These tools make it possible to configure products and offerings, help improve the accuracy of quotes, assure compliance with discounting and margin policies, accelerate internal deal review process and provide customers with detailed quotes far more quickly than manual processes allow.

CPQ solutions connect finance, product and sales departments, linking product information and pricing policies with sales processes to generate and manage proposals. CPQ tools lighten the workload for salespeople and give customers better information faster. They also help to ensure pricing consistency and compliance with discount guidelines. CPQ tools can increase revenue through guided selling suggestions for complementary services or products. Some tools manage the contract process as well. CPQ has also emerged as a critical source of data and understanding about the customer, delivering high-fidelity signal on need, intent and specific product needs.

Many CPQ vendors focus on specific industry sectors, such as manufacturing, telecoms, retail, IT resellers and insurance. For the purposes of this list, we've focused on the vendors that provide CPQ capabilities across a broad range of industry sectors.
