

Infor Certification Frequently Asked Questions

General Certification FAQ

What is a Beta exam?

As part of a new exam development process, data must be gathered to determine how well the exam is performing. We accomplish this by first releasing a beta version of the exam. The process of attempting a beta exam is slightly different from live production exams and are explained here.

How long are Beta exams available?

Generally, Beta exams are available for 6 weeks. This time may be extended if additional beta participants are needed.

Do Beta exams count for Certification?

Yes, if you pass the beta exam, you will be certified and will receive your certification badge in Credly.

How much time is allotted for completing an exam?

Allotted time varies depending on the exam type, level, and the number of questions on the exam.

General time allowance:

Associate Exams

- Beta – 60 minutes
- Production – 50 minutes

Professional Exams

- Beta – 120 minutes
- Production – 90 minutes

Can I request more time to take an exam?

Yes. Additional time accommodations are allowed for disability or if English is not your first language. Send a request for an extended time exam to Infor Certification Program certification@infor.com at least 5 days prior to your exam date/time.

What can I expect after completing my exam?

- You will receive an email from Kryterion with your test results after completing a production exam.
- For Beta exams, you will receive an email from Kryterion with your test results after the beta exam period ends, approximately 6-8 weeks after you complete your beta exam.
- Within 24 hours after passing your exam, you will receive an email notification from Credly to accept your digital badge.

I passed a certification exam but did not receive a badge notification from Credly.

Check your Spam or GrayMail email folders. To ensure you are receiving the badge notifications and other important communications from Infor Certification team, we advise adding admin@youracclaim.com, admin@credly.com and certification@infor.com to address book, contacts, or safe sender list.

You can find further guidance here.

If you still can't find the badge notification, send an email to certification@infor.com

What is the passing score for my exam?

Infor does not share passing score thresholds for our certification exams. Exam passing scores are determined through an industry-standard best practice of quantitative data analysis based on the exam's ongoing performance. As such, scores for each exam are set independently, subject to change without notice, and may vary from exam to exam.

How do I prepare for an Infor certification exam?

Review the information in the corresponding Exam Guide. The Exam Guide includes specific details, such as the topics covered, the number of questions on the exam, time allowed for the exam, and the relevant training or documentation.

Is training required for certification?

Training is not required to be certified although, it is strongly recommended. If you wish to register for instructor-led, instructor-led virtual, e-learning, or self-directed course please visit:

www.infor.com/education

Note: Some certifications in the future may require training.

How do I know what is covered on a certification exam?

Review the corresponding Exam Guide. Each Exam Guide provides:

- Exam topic areas
- Related training and documentation
- Exam objectives by topic area and resource

What is the exam question format?

All certification exam questions are multiple choice questions with either a single response or multiple response answers.

Can I retake an Exam if I fail?

Yes. You may reattempt the same exam within these guidelines.

Is there limit on the number of reattempts for a failed exam?

Yes, four attempts.

Is there any way I could retake the exam prior to the required wait time I am seeing on the registration site (bypass the exam retake policy)?

No. This policy exists to protect our exam content and is applied globally to all audiences.

How do I find out what I missed on my exam?

Infor does not disclose exam answers, or the questions missed on an exam. Infor strives to maintain the highest standards to protect the integrity of the certifications you earn. Feedback is only provided at the topic level to help you prepare to retake the exam, not at the question level.

Can I retake a Passed exam?

No, you may not attempt the same exam again after passing.

Are Certification exams available in languages other than English?

Yes, some exams are available in Japanese. During the registration process, you can select the Japanese version of an exam where available.

General Credentialing FAQ

Where can I find my badges?

You can find your badge on Infor's credentialing platform Credly.

How do I get started with Credly?

There are two steps to getting started with Credly:

- Complete Infor certification and receive a badge.
- Create an account and claim your badge.

How to create a Credly account?

Follow the instructions given here to create Credly account.

How do I know if I've been issued a badge from Infor?

You'll receive an email from Credly admin@youracclaim.com / admin@credly.com. Follow the instructions here to claim your badge.

How can I be sure I receive my badge notification email from Credly?
